Medication Log

Keep a log of medications you are taking with ease. Recording what medications you are taking has never been this easy. Type in the name of the medication you are taking once, when you take it for the first time, and you will never need to type it again. Turn on the NAG ME feature for a medication and it will gently nag if you are missing your regular schedule. No need to tell it when you are supposed to take a medication, or when you want to be reminded. Shortly after you were supposed to take a medication and didn't, it will start gently nagging you with music and a popup will tell you which medication you are missing. The main display shows the last time you took each medication.
